Addressing Industry Challenges

Insurance costs continue to rise. Fleet safety programs can make or break your ability to get affordable coverage.

DOT audits and violations can shut down operations. Companies need proactive strategies to stay ahead.

Hiring and training drivers is more challenging than ever. The industry is evolving, and we need new approaches to education and safety.

Avg. Turnover Rate for Truck Drivers

- Turnover Rate: Low 90%.
- For every 100 people who start driving, 91 of them quit within a year.

Safety Investigations In 2023

- 12,358 Safety Invest. performed
- Over 6,000 of those investigations had at least one Acute or Critical Violation

Addressing Industry Challenges

CNS Compliance & Licensing : We take a proactive approach to DOT compliance, keeping companies ahead of regulations, managing licensing, and ensuring that when an audit comes, you're not just prepared—you're ahead of the curve.

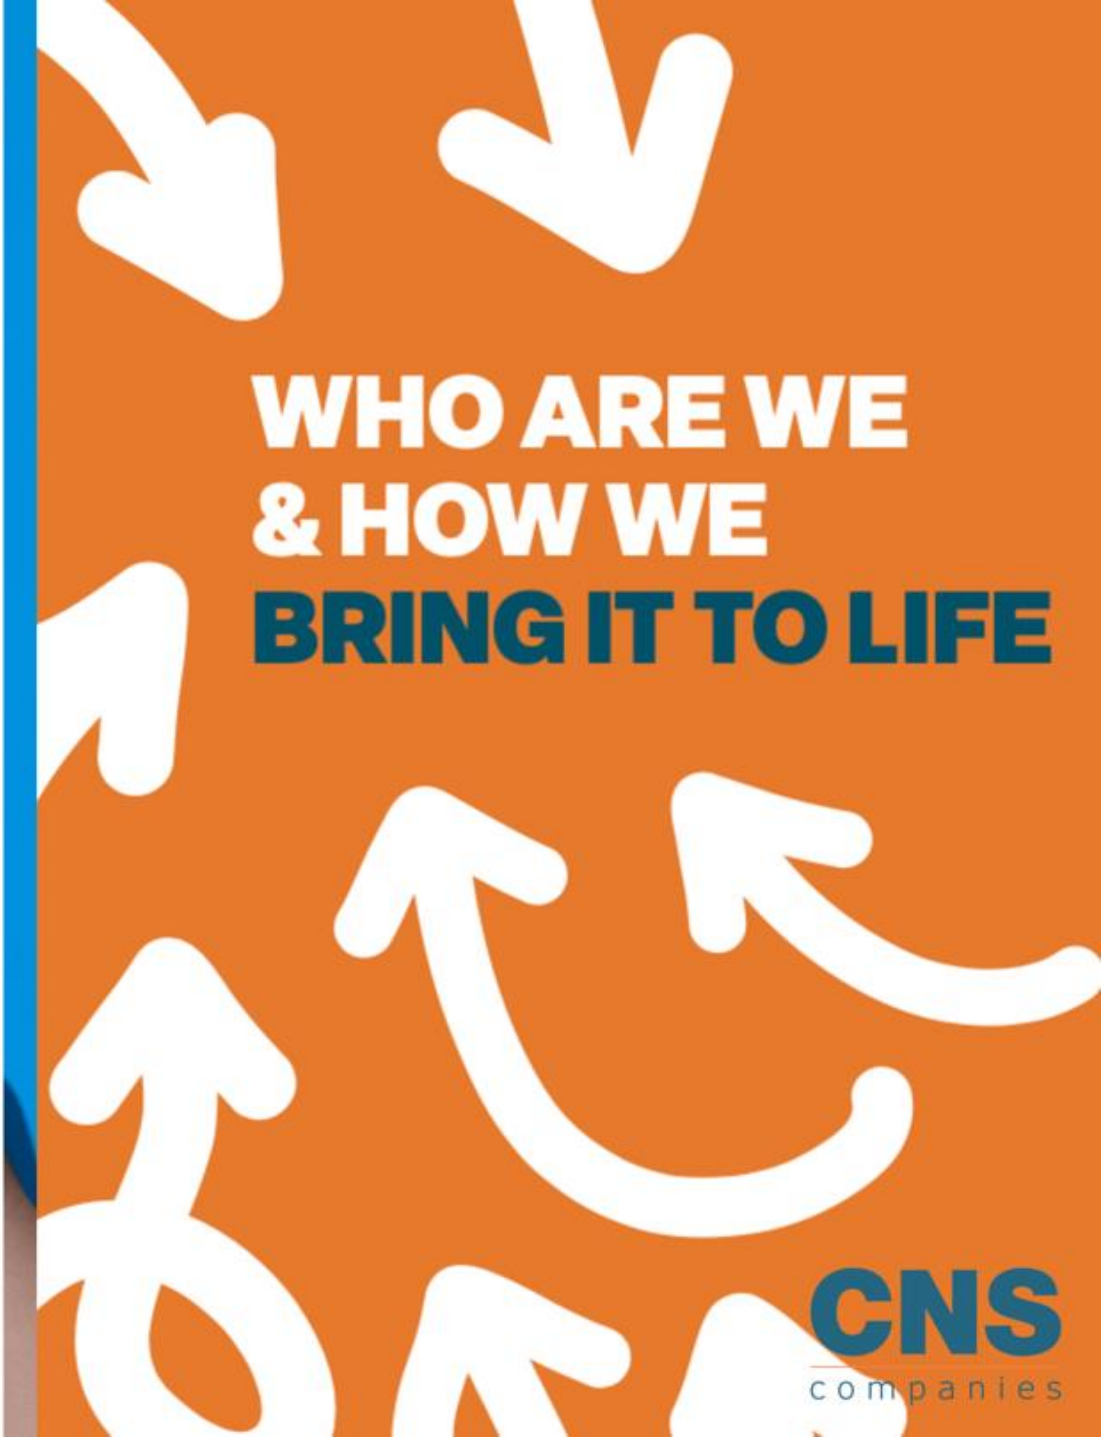

CNS Insurance, now serving 37 states, helps businesses find the right coverage while keeping costs manageable through compliance-driven risk management.

CNS Driver Training Center goes beyond the status quo, training professional drivers in a way that prioritizes safety, skill, and career success.

CNS Occupational Medicine provides DOT physicals, drug testing, workers' compensation services, and audiograms to support a healthier, safer workforce.

A grayscale photograph of two construction workers on a site. One worker in the foreground is wearing a hard hat and safety vest, looking at a tablet. Another worker is behind him, pointing upwards. A thick, orange, brush-stroke-like line is drawn across the middle of the image, partially obscuring the workers. The background shows a cloudy sky and structural elements of a building under construction.
